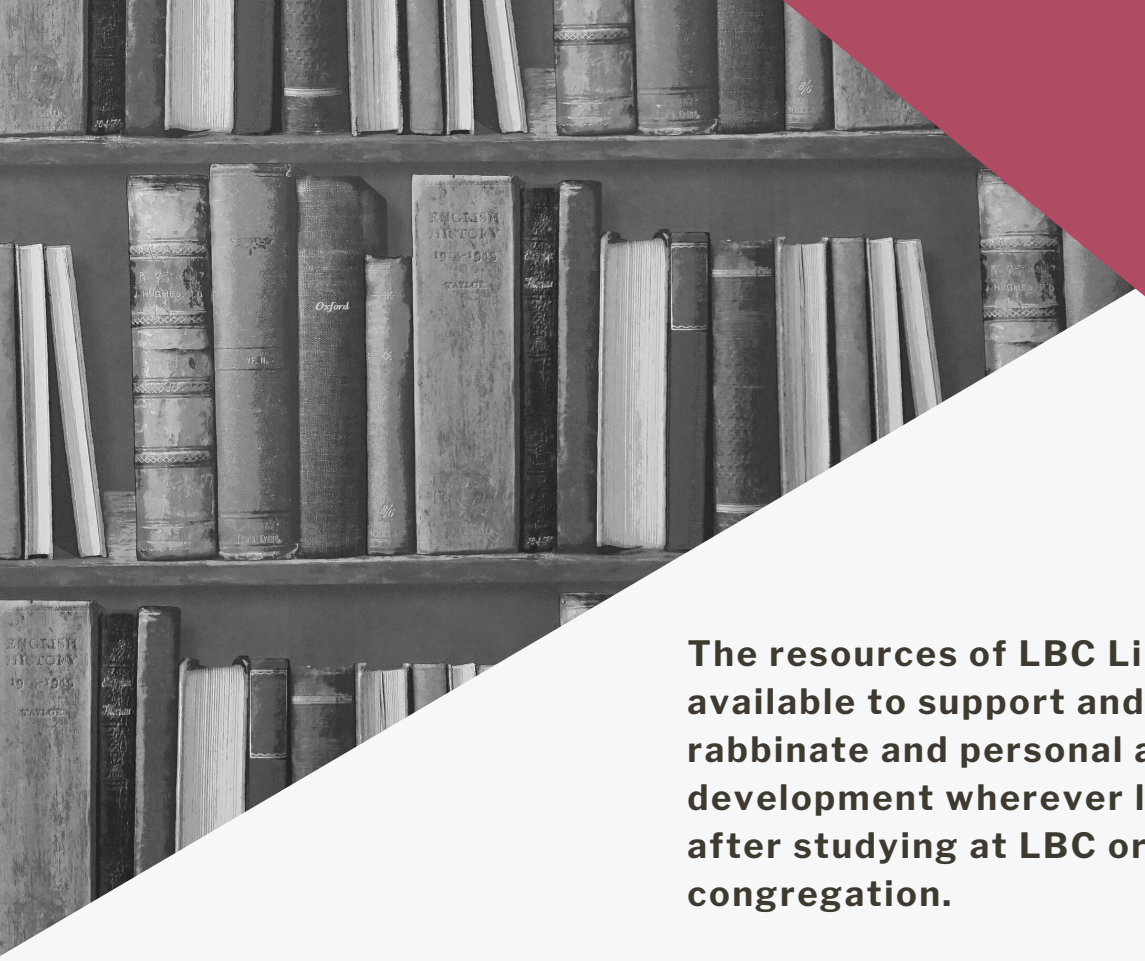
Leo Baeck College

AT THE HEART OF PROGRESSIVE JUDAISM

LIBRARY

FOR ALUMNI

AND MEMBERS OF THE ASSEMBLY OF REFORM RABBIS AND CONFERENCE OF LIBERAL RABBIS & CANTORS



The resources of LBC Library are available to support and enhance your rabbinate and personal and professional development wherever life takes you after studying at LBC or while leading a congregation.

A LIBRARY TO REDISCOVER AND EXPLORE

Beginning from a small collection of books saved from the Holocaust, the library has grown into one of the largest Jewish Studies libraries in Europe. We hope our extraordinary collections will continue to provide knowledge, challenge and inspiration throughout your career and personal life.

A SPACE TO WORK AND STUDY

The library is a calm, fairly quiet and friendly space to work and study, especially if you are looking for a neutral space away from home and synagogue or the encouragement of our studious atmosphere.

A PLACE TO MEET AND CONNECT

The LBC library is a very special place outside the classroom and synagogue where rabbis, students, faculty and researchers can share their learning, questions and concerns. Pop in – you never know who you might meet....

GET READING

All LBC Alumni, Assembly and Conference members can use the library for reference. Those based in the UK can register to borrow 3 books at a time for free. Please contact our librarian for more information.

GET INSPIRED

Visit our exhibitions and displays to discover new, stimulating and provocative books on topics from every aspect of Jewish practice, culture and thought, to revisit familiar ideas and consider new ones.

GET ONLINE ACCESS

Those using the library can access the Bar Ilan Responsa Project Database, JSTOR and Encyclopaedia Judaica online.

GET FREE BOOKS

The library regularly offers duplicates from the collections or donations to library visitors.

GET RESEARCH SUPPORT

Our librarian can help you discover and access information for projects or subjects you are researching, including books and articles.

To find out more please contact our the library

library@lbc.ac.uk 020 8349 5610

www.lbc.ac.uk

SHARE YOUR KNOWLEDGE

All are welcome to make suggestions and recommendations of books for the library to buy.

SHARE YOUR BOOKS

If you are a voracious reader or reviewer please consider donating books to the library.

SHARE YOUR WRITING

If you, your congregation or congregants are writing or publishing, informally or officially, please consider sharing your work with the library.